Nouvelle Vague

In the early 2000's Gregory Hecht & François Bannier started a boutique winery in the south of France. Because of their fresh new approach of winemaking and viticulture of the Old Midi, they were quickly seen as La Nouvelle Vague, the « new wave » in such an ancient and traditional region.

Led by their experiences gathered in other regions and countries, they want to make full of fruit wines, produced from organic grapes, bottled without fining, just slightly filtered.

Year after year the wine critics whilst praising their wines, nicknamed them « the wine beach boys » with their surfer looks.

Embracing this old surfers' nickname, Hecht & Bannier have imagined Nouvelle Vague wine range.

Nouvelle Vague red is made with organic grapes from very old vines of Carignan in Corbières, refreshing Syrah and Grenache from south of Roussillon and a splash of Cabernet Sauvignon from Provence.

Aged in cement vat to preserve its seducing fruit driven expression and its unique quaffable character.

Syrah, Cinsault, Carignan, Grenache

Tasting

With a pretty carmine red colour, Nouvelle Vague reveals on the nose red berries aromas and then spicy nuances. Immediately enjoyable, fresh and well-balanced, Nouvelle Vague is a bottle of daily pleasure.

Staring at the sunset, with your feet in the sand ending your surfing session, the only way to enjoy it.
